He was predeceased by his grandparents. Bobby graduated from the Environmental Technology program at Sault St. Marie College in 1999 & that same year moved west to Calgary to pursue a career in the Oil & Gas industry where he was successfully employed with a number of companies. The move to Calgary resulted in the best thing to happen in Bobby's life, when he met his future bride Christine in 2000. They were married in July, 2006 & from then on family became the focus of his life. In his spare time, which was often limited, he enjoyed the outdoors, especially camping & fishing where he could spend time relaxing with family & friends. Bobby always looked after his body & he loved to hit the gym to lift weights. He took his bodybuilding to an elite level & in 2003 participated in a number of competitions. As he liked to say, "Stay shredded". In addition to these many interests, as a young boy Bobby learned the skills & passion towards woodworking & carpentry from his father, Roger. He liked nothing more than to tackle a project with his dad. In 2013, Bobby, Christine & the boys moved to the farm near Glendon, Alberta & immersed themselves in rural life while pursuing Oil & Gas. Bobby enjoyed farming with his in-laws, Richard and Lois, and looked forward to Christine's home cooked meals that reminded him of his mother, Nicole's cooking. Bobby passed on his passion for sports to his sons & young Jack has become quite a hockey player. The two of them shared his undying devotion to "les Habitants" (Montreal Canadians) which Jack will carry with him forever.
