Tribute from Emroy jr Cardinal

Relation: His son

Im sorry I won't show it's to much pain for me to bear, I buried my baby brother with him I can't bury my father now.. I regret not talking to him after I left I thought I'd see him again and we'd make peace before something like this would happen, my dad will forever be in my heart and I'll carry his name down for my kids and my kids grandkids, life's been dark since my brother died now everything just got darker

I love you guys

Tribute from Schrise Tyki Cardinal

Relation: his daughter its been a year since you left us dad! and i always think of the day we buried you like it was yesterday and i feel like i'm reliving the day i heard the day you were killed. i miss you and i love you but your with Greyson just like you wanted. you warned us that you were going to leave us we me and you both didn't know when that day was but it happened sooner then we thought. i miss having conversation about us getting old together and where i have to take care of you. i remember you always joking about me not putting you in a home of old people. and you know i would never do that. cos id rather take care of you like i did when you were with me. miss those days where we would cry to each other about baby grey. and our problems . i love you dad i hope to see you soom <3
