Tribute from John Sundt

Relation: Friends

I was thinking about you today Jimmy. Thinking about all those miles we drove on the backroads, all the laughs we had, all the plans on how we were going to live our lives and stay friends forever.

The miles and years separated us, but I always thought of you my brother and (like today) found myself smiling with those thoughts.

As long as I remember you and think of you...you'll never be gone.
