Mariah, love of my life. It's your wifey. I didn't get enough time with you. If anybody is reading this, know that Mariah was one of life's few treasures. You knew she was in a room because she always radiated positivity and happiness, her laugh was contagious in the most comforting of ways. I've been lost without you, so many things I want to share with you. I lost you too soon, I should have been a better friend.. you had always been one to me. I never knew I'd have to live a life without my best friend, everything has changed. Everything. Losing you made me feel like I had nothing left to lose, I went on my first flight halfway across the world to Europe. I went on 6 flights in less than 2 months, you would've been proud of me. I still search for you in every place I go, and in everyone I meet. I search for parts of you in everything, but I will never find you again in this life. The heartache is ineffable, but I'm finding the strength to carry on. I'm thankful to Jesus for bringing you home, we all should have treated you like the princess you are- now you're shining up in Heaven, being loved and appreciated the way you should have been here. Thank you for all the valuable lessons you taught me, all the love you gave me, and all our precious moments together. I miss you my girl, I'll love you forever.
