Tribute from Nicole Scott

Relation: Granddaughter

We will miss our grandpa always. His memories will live on through his loving family. It will be hard to go on without him, knowing that he has left behind so much love and life is our comfort for now. His mind and soul were willing and able, although his heart was ready for a rest. Rest easy now, grandpa.

Marge, and Family, So very sorry to hear of Roy's passing. I first met Roy when he was the wagon master leading the wagon train down our road, on the way to Fort Victoria. I took our kids out to watch all the horses, and wagons going down the road, and they were just enthralled with seeing all the horse drawn wagons. Until then, they had only heard of covered wagons in story books. But being able to see them all going down the road together was really special. Roy was truly one of a kind. I always enjoyed watching Roy play the bones, He could draw a crowd, just sitting and playing his bones. Adults and kids especially were amazed that such cool music could be made with just a couple bones. And when I asked Roy if he could come out to the Vilna Show and Shine, and play with the other musicians, he agreed to come out, even though the family was dealing with his son's illness. Cowboy. Wheelwright. Wagon Master. Musician. Gentleman. Truly one of a kind. Rest in peace, He will be missed.

Tribute from Judy Bogdan

Relation: Family friend

Dearest Marge and family..So sorry to hear about Roy's passing..found out too late to come to the memorial, but am so glad I stopped in after Lee Park Rodeo. Roy was a legend in his time..a man with character, values, gentleness, love of his family, culture, traditions and animals. I will always remember how glad dad was to be at your wedding in Heinsburg. Now they can sit together and share endless stories of the heart. May he rest in peace. Call anytime Marge. All my love, Judy Bogdan 780 646-2925
